THE FARM TRIBUNE

VOL. XI — NO. 4 PUBLISHED WEEKLY — PORTERVILLE, CALIFORNIA Thursday, July 18, 1957

POULTRY PRODUCTION RECORD SET

SACRAMENTO, July 18.—California's poultry and hatchery industry set all-time records in 1956, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service in a production summary issued this week, however, the increased production resulted in farm prices for these commodities sufficiently lower to reduce the total dollar return from sales below 1955.

The total of cash farm receipts for the year was $255 million $4 million less than in 1955. The record high for cash farm receipts was $304 million in 1953.

Of the various poultry enterprises, the turkey crop showed the largest increase in production with a record number of 12.6 million birds raised, a 24 per cent increase from 1955 and well above the former record of 11.1 million turkeys in 1952. The

Trantham Backed By Fine Coaching Record As He Joins Carl Elder Staff For 1957 Porterville High Season

PORTERVILLE, July, 18.—Backed by a fine coaching record in Texas, John N. Trantham this week joined the staff of Head Football Coach Carl Elder at Porterville high school and, along with Assistants Al Melcer and Sim Iness, will be rarin' to go when the Varsity Panthers start practice September 2.

Trantham has an overall record of 42 wins and 14 losses as a high school football coach in Texass, and at Garrison, he won the regional championship in an undefeated season in which his team took 12 straight.

As a college athlete he played three years at fullback at the University of Houston, and, while in the Marine Corps, played two years of service football in Southern California, earning a third-spot rating on the 1947 all-Service team.

While still in school he won the Golden Gloves boxing championship of East Texas, but was unable to continue in the tournament because of illness. Later, as a Marine, he boxed a draw with the national light heavyweight Golden Gloves champ.

As a high school athlete, Trantham competed in track and basketball, as well as football; he has also coached high school basketball.

Trantham, who was raised in New London, Texas, is married and has one daughter. At the moment, he and his family are looking for a house to buy in Porterville, while living in Strathmore.

COACHES TO ATTEND TEXAS SCHOOL

PORTERVILLE, July 18.—Porterville high school football coaches, Carl Elder, Sim Iness and John Trantham, will leave about August 1 to attend the world's largest coaching school at Dallas, Texas.

Bud Wilkinson, of Oklahoma, and Bowden Wyatt, of Tennessee, will be among the top college coaches who will explain the fine points of football.

Constellation Booked For Hawaiian Holiday

PORTERVILLE, July 18.—A 90-passenger Constellation will carry Porterville area residents on their Hawaiian holiday, August 27, through September 4, it was stated today by Allan Coates, manager of the Porterville chamber of commerce.

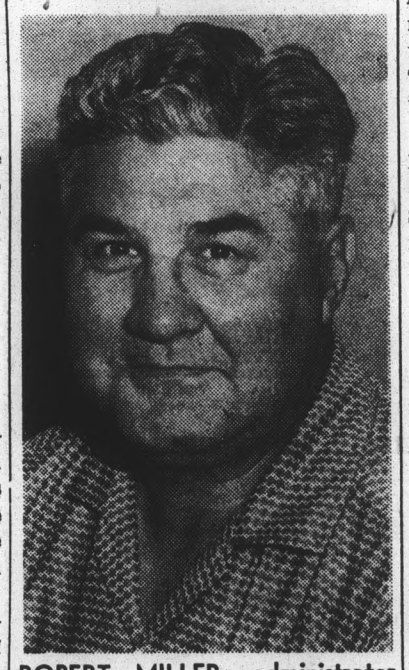

The Transocean Air Lines will leave Porterville airport and return to Porterville, which will be a history-making event in that the plane will be the largest commercial ship to operate from the Porterville airport, and its non-stop flight to Hawaii will be the longest flight from a Porterville takeoff.

The Hawaiian Holiday tour, sponsored by the Porterville chamber of commerce includes round-trip air travel from Porterville to Hawaii and back to Porterville; (no one ever made that kind of offer before) price includes hotel accommodations at the Edgewater Reef hotel; a Hawaiian Luau, scenic motor tours, lunch at the famous Waioli tearoom, outrigger canoe riding, a tour through the Hawaiian Pineapple plant at Iwilei, and an Aloha dinner.

Other special events are included on the tour, plus provision for "time of your own" to do the things that you want to do while in the Islands.

CITRUS INSURANCE STUDY MADE

PORTERVILLE, July 18—Representatives of the U. S. department of agriculture arrived in Porterville yesterday to make a study of citrus production in relation to the possibility of offering federal crop insurance against frost.

It is expected that about 10 days or two weeks will be needed to complete classification of groves in order to determine the amount of coverage that may be offered, and rates to be charged.

Citrus groves in Tulare county, Kern county, and Fresno county will probably be included if the insurance is offered.

At present there is no information on what the insurance plan may eventually be; details will not be known until information from the grove classification survey is compiled.

Nelson Little, head of the federal crop insurance program in this area, says that he does not know as yet whether citrus frost insurance will be made available for the coming winter.

Norma Carlisle Wins $112.50 Silver Bonus

PORTERVILLE, July 18—Norma Carlisle, of Ducor, is $112.50 richer this morning because she was the lucky winner of last Tuesday's Silver Bonus in Porterville.

Because her sales slip from Daybell Nursery was less than $5.00, she won half of last week's Silver Bonus. Which means that next Tuesday the Silver Bonus is $137.50.

And Norma won, just like you could win, by simply producing a sales slip, dated Tuesday, from one of Porterville's Silver Bonus stores.

There is a winner every week, so shop Silver Bonus stores next Tuesday as listed on the Silver Bonus pages of this issue of The Farm Tribune.

You sign up just once, at any Silver Bonus store; you shop Silver Bonus stores on Tuesday; a name is selected Tuesday evening; if it is your name, you will be notified between 6:15 p. m. and 7 p. m.

You must have a sales slip dated Tuesday to win the Silver Bonus, however, if your name comes up, you get at least $5.00. Read the Silver Bonus pages of this contest.

HIGHWAY 65 PRIORITIES ARE REQUESTED

VISALIA, July 18. — Representatives of chambers of commerce of Tulare county communities this week requested priorities for various road projects in the county, with highway 65 hitting the top of the list in several categories.

The recommendations will be put in final priority form by the state chamber of commerce, then, in connection with road projects throughout the state, presented to the California Highway Commission.

In the category of projects for consideration of rights-of-way allocation, section of highway 65 from Linda Vista avenue to Hermosa avenue, 6.7 miles, received No. 1 priority.

In category of projects for surveys, designs and advance rights-of-way acquisition, 9.5 miles on highway 65 from White River to the present new section south of Porterville, received top rating, with second priority going to the

SIERRA VIEW HOSPITAL MAY OPEN IN FEBRUARY OF NEXT YEAR; PLAN IS TO PUT OPERATION ON PAYING BASIS

PORTERVILLE, July 18—The new Sierra View hospital may be opened before the end of February, 1958, it was stated this week by Robert Miller, administrator of the hospital.

Miller also said that he hopes to have the 40-bed hospital "operating in the black" after two years.

He said that a number of factors are involved in operating costs, the most important of which is the average patient load, since practically the same staff is necessary to run the hospital whether it operates near capacity or with only a small number of patients.

The hospital is being constructed so that it can be expanded by 16 medical and surgical beds, and eight maternity beds if need for the expansion develops in the future.

Construction work on the new hospital, which is located at Putnam avenue and Jaye streets, will be completed prior to the end of the year if present work rate continues, Miller says.

Following completion, up to two months may be required to equip the building and get it ready for actual use.

Hospital policy will be in the hands of the elected directors of the Sierra View Hospital district; doctors' staff will handle administrave matters.

Doctors, including osteopaths, now practicing within the Hospital district, which includes the area of the Porterville Union High School and College district

SUCCESS DAM HEARING ENDS

FRESNO, July 18. — Decision on action through which the U. S. Army engineers seek immediate possession of land involved in the Success Dam and Reservoir project is expected soon as a federal court hearing Monday and Tuesday in Fresno was closed.

The case has been submitted and Judge Gilbert H. Jertberg has the case under consideration. His decision will determine when, and under what terms, the engineers can take possession of land so that construction work on the project can be started.

Thursday, July 18, 1957 Vol. XI, No. 4

In previous weeks we have printed the ideas of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson concerning the "farm problem." This week we will conclude the series with the comment that farmers would do well to listen to Mr. Benson, face the facts of economic life, and seek their salvation in their own baliwick rather than in the offices of politicians.

Actually, representatives of many segments of agriculture are doing just that, and those segments are stronger now in their own right than are those segments of so-called basic crops that have been surrounded with laws and programs.

But to get back to Mr. Benson, he says:

Agricultural products are likely to be abundant. Under such conditions they cannot be successfully priced as if they were scarce.

Since we apparently cannot legislate scarcity, we must learn how to live with abundance. We need to build markets so that this abundance can be used. We cannot build markets by pricing ourselves out of them.

The agricultural budget submitted for the coming year totals in the neighborhood of $5 billion. It was pointed out on the floor of the House that this is the equivalent of nearly half the net income of our farm people.

Few would object seriously to heavy costs if these costs were temporary and if the program were moving toward a solution.

But there are two things which the American people are not likely to tolerate:

1. The rebuilding of surpluses after stocks have been pulled down by surplus disposal and the Soil Bank.

2. A permanent Soil Bank and a permanent disposal program of the dimensions made necessary by incentive prices and ineffective controls.

Certainly, more production adjustments are needed for our basic crops than are likely to come from the type of controls we hitherto have had. Farmers are capable of making many needed adjustments on their own if permitted to do so.

Many provisions of the law (related to agricultural programs) are good and workable. There are more than 200 farm products fo which we are authorized to provide price supports. For all but 11 of these (the basic commodities—wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco—and a few other with special programs—dairy products, wool, sugar, honey and tung nuts) general guides are provided by law as a basis for price support without the use of fixed formulas.

For the 190 or so commodities to which these criteria apply, problems have perhaps been less troublesome than for the basic commodities.

I have no doctrinaire solution for agricultural problems. My comments regarding governing legislation stem from the fact that these programs are not working.

STATE COTTON ACREAGE BELOW 1956; CROP PROSPECTS "VERY SATISFACTORY"

SACRAMENTO, July 18—Acreage of cotton in cultivation in California July 1, 1957 is estimated at 730,000 acres, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service. Last year 772,000 acres were standing on July 1 and the 10-year (1946-55) average is 894,000 acres.

The acreage in cultivation on July 1 is 90 per cent of the acreage allotment of 811,000 acres. A total of 74,000 acres was placed in the Soil Bank reserve in 1957; acreage in cultivation includes acreage to be removed for compliance.

Cotton prospects are very satisfactory on July 1. High temperatures in June provided favorable weather conditions for good growth and cotton that was retarded by the cool weather and rains in May has mostly caught up. Stands are good, although some replanting was required this year.

Cotton acreage in cultivation for the United States July 1, 1957 of 14,224,000 acres compares with 16,833,000 acres in 1956 and 22,743,000 acres, the average.

For Nevada the estimated 2,300 acres standing July 1 compares with 2,300 acres last year and 1,100 acres, the average.

FISHIN'

By Slim Washburn

Fishing should be very good on all forks of the Tule river this week-end. Planting of catchable trout will be resumed this week. The North Fork (Jack Flats), Camp Nelson, Camp Wishon, Cedar Slope and Peppermint creek will be planted.

No more planting this season at Coffee Camp or lower because of the low, warm water, however, water is just right below the P. G. & E. powerhouse.

Big Kern fishing is good. All reports from the pack stations at Quaking Aspen are that the water has dropped in Big Kern so that fly fishing is excellent. Little Kern and tributaries good.

From Balch Park pack station, Evalyn, Blossom and Summit lakes—good. South fork pasture and Soda Spring creek good.

WHEAT GROWERS MUST COMPLY IN MARKET PROGRAM

VISALIA, July 18—With the nation's farmers voting 83.3 per cent and California growers 76.5 per cent in favor of marketing quotas for the 1958 wheat crop, the federal program will continue in operation for another year.

Incomplete returns show a total of 172,166 farmers voting, of whom 143,333 favored the quotas and 28,833 were opposed. While the tabulation is not final because adverse weather conditions delayed complete returns from a number of states the final count is not expected to change the result.

Under a marketing quota program, farmers must comply with their farm wheat allotments in order to receive price support on their crop. This support has been announced at a minimum national average of $1.78 per bushel for the commercial wheat states.

Farmers who do not comply with their allotments will not be eligible for price support on their crop. In addition, those with more than 15 acres of wheat who are in excess of their allotments will be subject to a marketing quota penalty on each bushel of "excess" wheat.

Cantaloupe harvest is underway in the Delano area.

From Daybell Nursery By John

Our books on gardening have more crazy ideas of things to do this month than you can shake a rake at—Sunset Garden Book makes the only reasonable suggestions by saying to kill the bugs and water the plants. These should both be done while the plants still have some green leaves—Once the bugs consume the plant and start eating the clods it's too late.

One book suggests starting a roof garden. This might seem like the wrong time of year unless you read the whole story. It seems to have a successful roof garden you should have a house strong enough to support it. This requires either rebuilding your present home or starting a new one—either of which you had best get started on if you want to be ready for spring planting.

One suggestion we have is to hang some aluminum Scare-Aways in your fruit trees in hopes of discouraging the birds. If nothing else they look pretty flashing around in the sun and are inexpensive at ten for a quarter.

Crepe myrtles are blooming now so you can easily pick your color. These can be used as small trees or shrubs. Need lots of sun, are easy to grow, cost from a dollar twenty-five up, and are really colorful. We have a few of the new royal purple variety which have flowers large as a dollar and cost nearly five. We're on "E" Street, Porterville.

THE OLD DAYS

FEBRUARY 1900

BAKERSFIELD—The accident to Henry Miller, head of the firm of Miller & Lux, has called attention to the extensive land interests of the firm. Altogether the firm ownss 14,500,000 acres of land located in California, Nevada and Oregon. They own 40,900 acres in Tulare county and 1,536,000 acres in Kern county.

PORTERVILLE — It costs 44 cents per box freight to ship lemons to Stockton from Porterville, but it costs only 30 cents a box to ship from Los Angeles to Stockton. Porterville raises some fine fruit, but the growers are handicapped by this unjust freight rate discrimination.

The following permanent directors have been elected by the Porterville Board of Trade that was organized last week: J. H. Williams, A. Leslie, S. J. R. Gilbert, H. F. Brey, E. W. Beebe, A. G. Schultz and V. D. Knupp. Elected president of the board was A. Leslie; G. R. Lumley is secretary.

VISALIA — There were 104 homestead applications filed in the Visalia land office during the month of January, 1900. This is the largest number of applications in one month for years and years.

Residents of the Upper Tule remember that 15 years ago that bright young banker of Hanford, J. O. Hickman, herded hogs over the oak covered hills of Upper Tule, and that Kings County Superintendent Graham performed a similar service for the porkers in Yokohl valley. The difference between men who have the stuff in them and those who have not is that the men with the stuff herd hogs to get a start, the other fellow keep a'herd'n.

STATE FARM PRICES SHOW SEASON TRENDS

SACRAMENTO, July 18—Mid-June prices received by California farmers generally followed the usual seasonal declines, according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service. Hogs were the only item showing an appreciable increase from mid-May.

The prices for nearly all other items registered some decline from the previous month. Prices for wheat, rice, beans, hogs, cattle and calves, milk, and wool are above last year. Prices for most other items are below last year.

Cucumbers are in liberal supply in the San Diego and Los Angeles areas.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

ONE INTERESTING aspect of stories in old newspapers is that the problems and hopes of the community haven't changed much as the years go by.

FOR INSTANCE back in 1900, when the Porterville Board of Trade was formed (this was the forerunner of the chamber of commerce) basic ideas included the fostering and encouraging of business; the stimulation of manufacturing; the promotion of home products; and the encouraging of immigration.

FIFTY-SEVEN years later we are, as a community, still trying to promote business; we want manufacting (we call it industry now) we certainly do what we can to promote sale of home products, and the "immigrants" we are now after are called tourists.

AND EVEN prior to 1900, many newspaper articles called attention to the need for manufacting to supplement agriculture, and there were articles aimed at interesting someone in establishing a creamery, a slaughterhouse and other types of business that handled farm products.

EVEN PRIOR to 1900 Springville had industry that utilized the Sierra logging business — a box factory that supplied among others, the local citrus houses, and a furniture manufacturing business.

OTHER "NEW" ideas really aren't so new when you start checking back. Take, for instance, the trans-Sierra highway that we hear considerable about these days. It was in 1860 that a man by the name of W. J. Farley wrote, "The idea of the mountain lying between Visalia and Owens lake being impassible is childish." And in 1862 a company was actually chartered to construct a toll road from Visalia to Owens lake. (The idea then was that bullion was being hauled from the booming Owens lake mining area into Los Angeles—a seven-day trip by mule team, through the desert, while it was said the trip across the Sierra could be made in three days if a road was built. Business angle was that mules used for hauling annually consumed 8,640 tons of barley and 5,760 tons of hay, while terminal point of a trans-Sierra road would naturally be a bustling business area. And, of course, it didn't take Porterville people long to start pushing for the road to come into Porterville, rather than Visalia).

PARKING PROBLEMS today in the city area? Well, we have them. but back in 1909 the Porterville paper was receiving letters to the editor stating that unless Porterville business men provided adequate hitching racks for horses, farmers would take business elsewhere.

WE DON'T know exactly what point we are proving when we mention these things, except possibly that while the old order changeth, it doesn't always change as fast as we might think.

TROUT PLANTED FROM AIRPLANE

SACRAMENTO, July 18. — Summer program to plant some 6,000,000 trout fingerlings in mountain likes, most of them in remote areas, is now about one-third completed. Three airplanes are used in the planing program, which was started in 1946 by the state department of fish and game.

DOYLE COLONY
By George A. Heintz

I wonder: What happened to that motel project that was started next to Bob Jurkovich's property—when Grevilla Street is going to be widened?—where Cy Salmonson learned those folk songs?—why Noble Cowan never lights his cigars?—who ran over that Boxer pup on East Date?

Somebody said: . . . "There is not now and never has been, a perfectly run railroad, school, newspaper, gas station, grocery store . . . no business is, or ever has been built, managed or financed, as it should be, and someday will be." — there, lays the challenge at the door of the merchants of Doyle Colony to do better then they have been doing.

Did you know that: 4-H club member King Marks is the grand nephew of King Gillette, the founder of the safety razor—that Walter Bellah used to be a gold miner at White River?—that Ike Evans used to be known as "the kid" and broke broncs when he weighed only 90 pounds?

Signs of the times: The sign over a drive way to a house on Tyler Street: "El Rancho not so Grande"—city sign at Park and Date, elevation 416 feet—sign at Hillcrest Cemetery, "Keep out—this means you."

You ought to know: The Tule Indian Reservation is closed to fishing, but you are invited to visit the Painted Rocks and drink your fill of cold sparkling soda water—that you must have a permit to prospect for gold in those hills—that the new lumber road connecting to Camp Nelson is not open to sightseers — that rattlesnakes abound in the upper country.

Bustling: Contractors, agents, engineers and geologists falling over each other around the Success Dam site in clamor to estimate a bid on new highway—while smiling Delbert and Otis reap a harvest of dollars from the thirsty strangers.

And then: Hal Roeth told me—it takes 250 pounds pressure to chew a steak, 50 pounds to munch gum—so, my jaws are tired, "make mine coke."

ARCHERY SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

SACRAMENTO, July 18—California archers will take to the hills, Saturday, as a special 10-day deer and bear season opens in the coastal area; the season is limited to archers.

WEST OLIVE

Bernedetto Croce once wrote: "History is not a record of the past but a creation of the present which each generation begins anew" . . . and so the march of progress along the Avenue continues as Porter Putnam set the pace.

Quotable quotes: Barber Charley Jones: "I used to shampoo magnesite dust out of the miners' hair when the big mill was on South D Street."; Tony Prandini: "I wish I was back in San Francisco"; Pete Tomiello: "I got hot pups and I don't mean shoes"; Kenyon junior: "I'm goin' fishin' ".

Time capsule: When the atomic blasts are past, we'll have to blame the weather on something else—Sonny Delk of Delk's TV suggests the lousy summer TV programs cluttering up the ether may have some effect on the weather.

Horologist Eklund sez: "On a very hot day the sun striking your wrist watch may generate a temperature as high as 130 degrees and cause the works "to blow a gasket" . . and don't put it in the freezer unit to cool off!

New stuff: The Hiway 65 booster organization swinging into action—a shot in the arm for "the filler uppers" along the Olive branch—change of ownership at Associated Flying A station — Virl Hughes new station now sells Beacon gas—Maurice Howeth Farmacy with a new redwood corral and landscape job done by Logan's Nursery — Farmers Exchange doing a "land office" biz in exchanging coolers for heaters —or maybe it was heaters for coolers . .

Gripe dept.: The great number of traffic signs obscured from view by leaves and branches, X-ray eyes and radar needed to find 'em—the speeders that sneak up on you when slowing down for a school zone and giving you the horn — the mothers who leave their kids in hot cars while shopping for a "cool" bargain . . .

And if: You are a booster for your community—and who isn't —you'll join the Chamber of Commerce and probably win a free trip to Hawaii on an airliner that will take off from Porterville's own airport August 27.

Lygus Bug Check Should Be Made Regularly In Cotton Fields; Build-up Of Pest Reported In County Fields

By Alan G. George
Farm Advisor

VISALIA, July 4—Cotton growers should carefully check their fields for the presence of Lygus bugs or cotton daubers at this time. Lygus counts have been found high enough in a number of the county's cotton fields to warrant control of this pest. Excessive square shedding or a poor development in number of squares could be attributed to excessive numbers of this insect.

Feeding by Lygus bugs will cause a shedding of squares, flowers, and small bolls. Lygus bugs are particularly attracted to succulent or rank growing fields of cotton.

Lygus bugs live and breed in many other crops besides cotton. Adult Lygus will migrate from these other host plants into cotton. When alfalfa fields are cut, or when native growth dries up, this movement will occur. Because of this migration, insecticide applications should be timed to follow after alfalfa cuttings as near as possible.

The need for Lygus bug treatment may be determined by sweep method. For the sweep method, a series of 50 sweep samples made with a standard insect net through the tops of one row of cotton should be taken at several locations in the field. When such counts average 10 Lygus bugs per 50 sweeps, with each nymph counting as two, control should be taken. The presence of nymphs indicates a more advanced and serious infestation.

Checks for the presence of this pest should be made by growers at least once a week in order to prevent any damaging build up.

Recommended control is with DDT or Toxaphone. One to one and a half pounds per acre of actual DDT or two to three pounds of Toxaphene as a dust or spray are recommended. Dust applications should include at least 50% sulfur, as a mite depressant. Recommendations for control of the Lygus bug and other cotton insects is available at the Farm Advisors Office, in the basement of the Visalia post office.

FINS UR FEATHERS

By PHIL the FORESTER

JULY 11, 1957

The fishing accent in central California has now turned definitely to high elevation waters and the wild trout therein, or at least the fish grown from previously planted fingerlings.

Tulare, Fresno and Madera counties especially abound in small natural mountain lakes and streams. Fresno county alone has 243 natural lakes and 842 miles of fishable streams excluding park waters.

Practically all of these waters are well populated with rainbow, golden, eastern brook and brown trout. Most of the waters are now free of ice and are accessible by pack stock if not by four wheel drive vehicles.

Anglers returning from the Margaret Lakes reported marvelous fishing with all under eleven inches being tossed back as too small to keep. Near by Rose Lake however did not produce so good and the few trout that were taken were full of spawn.

Fish and wildlife conditions are reported direct as follows:

Kern county — Good catches of bass and catfish being made from Isabella lake. Good crappie fishing on the south fork of the Kern river near the Big Blue Mine.

Tulare county — Trout fishing fair on the Kaweah river, mostly for planted catchables. North fork of the Kaweah getting low. Farewell Pass now open. Warm water fishing has improved with fair take of catfish from lower Kings river. Several 15 to 20 inch white catfish seized from violators trapping them from the Homeland canal near Alpaugh.

Kings county — Fishing on the Kings river fair. Bass and catfish being taken from the Tule river.

Fresno county — Lots of bluegill coming from Millerton lake. Pine Flat reservoir fishing fair. Trout fishing on the Kings river about and below Pine Flat fair, ditto San Joaquin river below Friant.

Madera county — Granite creek and north fork San Joaquin improving for trout as water level drops. Back country lakes good except Jackass lake.

Merced county — Warm water fishing has slacked off due to hot weather but frogging very good.

Tuolumne county — The back country out of Pinecrest now open with parties going into Camp lake, Waterhouse lake, Bear lake and Herring creek. Roads still not in good condition but little or no snow. The Emigrant basin area is now open to fishing.

McFARLAND VOTES TO INCORPORATE

McFARLAND, July 18—Newest city in the area is McFarland, whose residents, on July 9 voted to incorporate.

San Joaquin valley acreage of honeydew melons totals 3,650 acres.

and a portion of the Strathmore Union High School district, have agreed to a set of administrative by-laws that have been drawn up.

Miller estimates that labor costs will run about two-thirds of operating costs. From one and three-quarers to two employees will be necesary per patient.

At present, Miller is setting up a schedlue of charges for hospital services; he says that this is difficult to do since there is, naturally, no past experience in this hospital to judge by.

Rates will be adjusted as necessary so that hospital services can be given as cheaply as possible, yet keep the hospital on a paying basis.

Although the new hospital is a "tax supported institution" in that it is being built with funds from three sources—a direct tax on property within the Sierra View Hospital district, state grant and federal grant—Miller believes that once the hospital is in operation, district funds should not be necessary to finance actual operation.

Miller came to Porterville after five years as administrator of the Visalia Municipal hospital. Formerly, he was an industrial engineer, specializing in personnel work. For 10 years he was in this field with the B. F. Goodrich company at Akron, Ohio; he is a graduate of Wittenberg college in Ohio.

Personnel for tne new hospital are now being interviewed and screened by Miller.

number of broilers and fryers produced was over 52 million, an eight per cent larger crop than in 1955.

Chicken egg producers again set a new record with a production of 4.5 billion eggs, a two per cent gain over 1955. The number of farm chickens raised in 1956, however, was three per cent less than the number raised the previous year.

The output of commercial hatcheries was 108 million chicks, four per cent more than in 1955, and 14.9 million turkey poults, 28 per cent more than in 1955.

The annual average prices received by farmers for all poultry commodities in 1956 were below 1955 prices. The most severe price decline in this group of commodities was registered for the crop of commercial broilers and fryers. The average price for this crop was 21 per cent lower than in 1955 and the lowest since 1941.

The price of farm chickens also decreased sharply during 1956 and averaged 13 per cent below the previous year's price. Farm chicken prices have not been so low since 1940.

The average price of eggs in 1956 was down five per cent from a year earlier. Except for 1954, egg prices were lower than in any other year following 1944; in 1954 they were three per cent lower than in 1956.

The 1956 average price for turkeys was seven per cent less than the 1955 price. The 1956 price was two per cent above the 1954 price but was lower than in all other years since 1941. Feed prices averaged lower in 1956 than for the preceding year.

The poultry and hatchery industry in California has undergone a tremendous expansion since the years immediately preceding World War II. The number of chickens in laying flocks increased 83 per cent since 1941, and egg production increased 158 per cent during the same period.

Commercial broiler and fryer production in 1956 was over seven times as large as 1941 production. The turkey crop has almost quadrupled during the 15 years since 1941. Hatchery production has expanded similarly to provide the young stock necessary for the rapid growth of the poultry industry.
